a brighter future.

Leading the way in suicide bereavement care

The Tomorrow Project offers a specialised suicide bereavement service which has been developed directly from the needs of the bereaved. We provide a dedicated, innovative service for anyone affected by suicide.

Suicide loss is a uniquely devastating experience which can leave the bereaved with unanswered questions and complex feelings that can be hard to process. Our team understands this and are here to help.

Our service aims to communicate with clients within 72 hours of referral, informing them of our service and establishing their immediate needs. We provide the Help is at Hand document and put in place support which is tailored to each client.

We deliver one-to-one emotional and practical support, which can be accessed in-person or remotely.
